Shortly after the first Europeans came to what is now New Mexico in 1536, the friars began arriving, sharing the Catholic faith, and building churches.

This pilgrimage will provide time to visit and experience the missions mainly along the Camino Real, the road which followed the Rio Grande.

There will be time for background, input by local people, mass and prayer each day, and for quiet as well as exploring local culture and art. We expect to visit several missions, such as Española, Taos, Acoma, Ysleta, San Felipe in Albuquerque, and Socorro.
